

NFB Campus – access to enhanced tools and resources

Welcome to CAMPUS, the National Film Board's video streaming service for the classroom and the primary source for Canadian film and media content across a wide range of subject areas.

Your subscription offers two separate levels of access to CAMPUS, one for students and one for educators.

- 1) Students can access thousands of films and other media simply by going to NFB.ca while using any school computer for which you have provided the IP address. Additionally, students have access to playlists and chapters, created and shared by an educator, while using any computer at home or school.
- 2) Educators can access everything that students do, as well as all the tools and resources that make CAMPUS unique. To get access to these features, your educators will need to activate their individual accounts. They can activate their accounts by following this link:

EN : <https://www.nfb.ca/transaction/institutional-subscription/token/7918563182148937/>

FR : <https://www.onf.ca/transaction/abonnement-institutionnel/jeton/7918563182148937/>

Please note that this link expires on Dec. 31st, 2020

Once their individual account is activated, educators have access to:

- Thousands of films and other media
- Tools to create and share your own chapters and playlists
- Educational summaries that draw links to Pan-Canadian curricula
- In-depth Educator's guides
- Search filters by subject area and age level
- MARC records
- Access via the web with no hardware or server space requirements
- Easy integration into the classroom

You are being offered this subscription by Council of Atlantic University Libraries / Conseil des bibliothèques universitaires de l'Atlantique

To get the latest news about CAMPUS, our films, trends in education and our educational resources, subscribe to the NFB Education newsletter.